Overview

Survey Results: The Aurora Hills Community Center

This survey was conducted via www.surveymonkey.com beginning on April 9, 2010 and ending on April 29, 2010. Two-hundred and six responses were gathered and after de-duping 201 usable results were analyzed. The original paper survey done (about 30 responses) was revised considerably when put online at surveymonkey.com, so the early paper responses are not included here. The paper surveys were provided to Miriam Gennari at her request.

Residents were directed to the survey via:

- emails to "friends" lists of Aurora Highlands and Arlington Ridge Civic Associations
- An article in the AHCA April 2010 newsletter
- Links from AHCA and ARCA web sites
- Two postings to the Arlington's 4th District (4D) (Yahoo list serv)

All answers chosen by respondents were ranked by their response rates. Some of the data that is most useful are the "verbatim"--respondents' suggestions in their own words. A copy of the survey as it appeared online is available as a pdf. All survey questions are included in this document.

After hearing Nanette at the April AHCA meeting, how about an all-age open mike reading night: people could read poems or prose excerpts from their favorite authors, maybe even do short bits from plays. Time limits, so several people would get a turn. This would be completely separate from invited speakers, since the community would know that every night would be an assortment of neighbors, and not check first to see if it's something they'd be interested in. Maybe once a month.
